My questions

Bullying

I am feeling scared and afraid to be alone

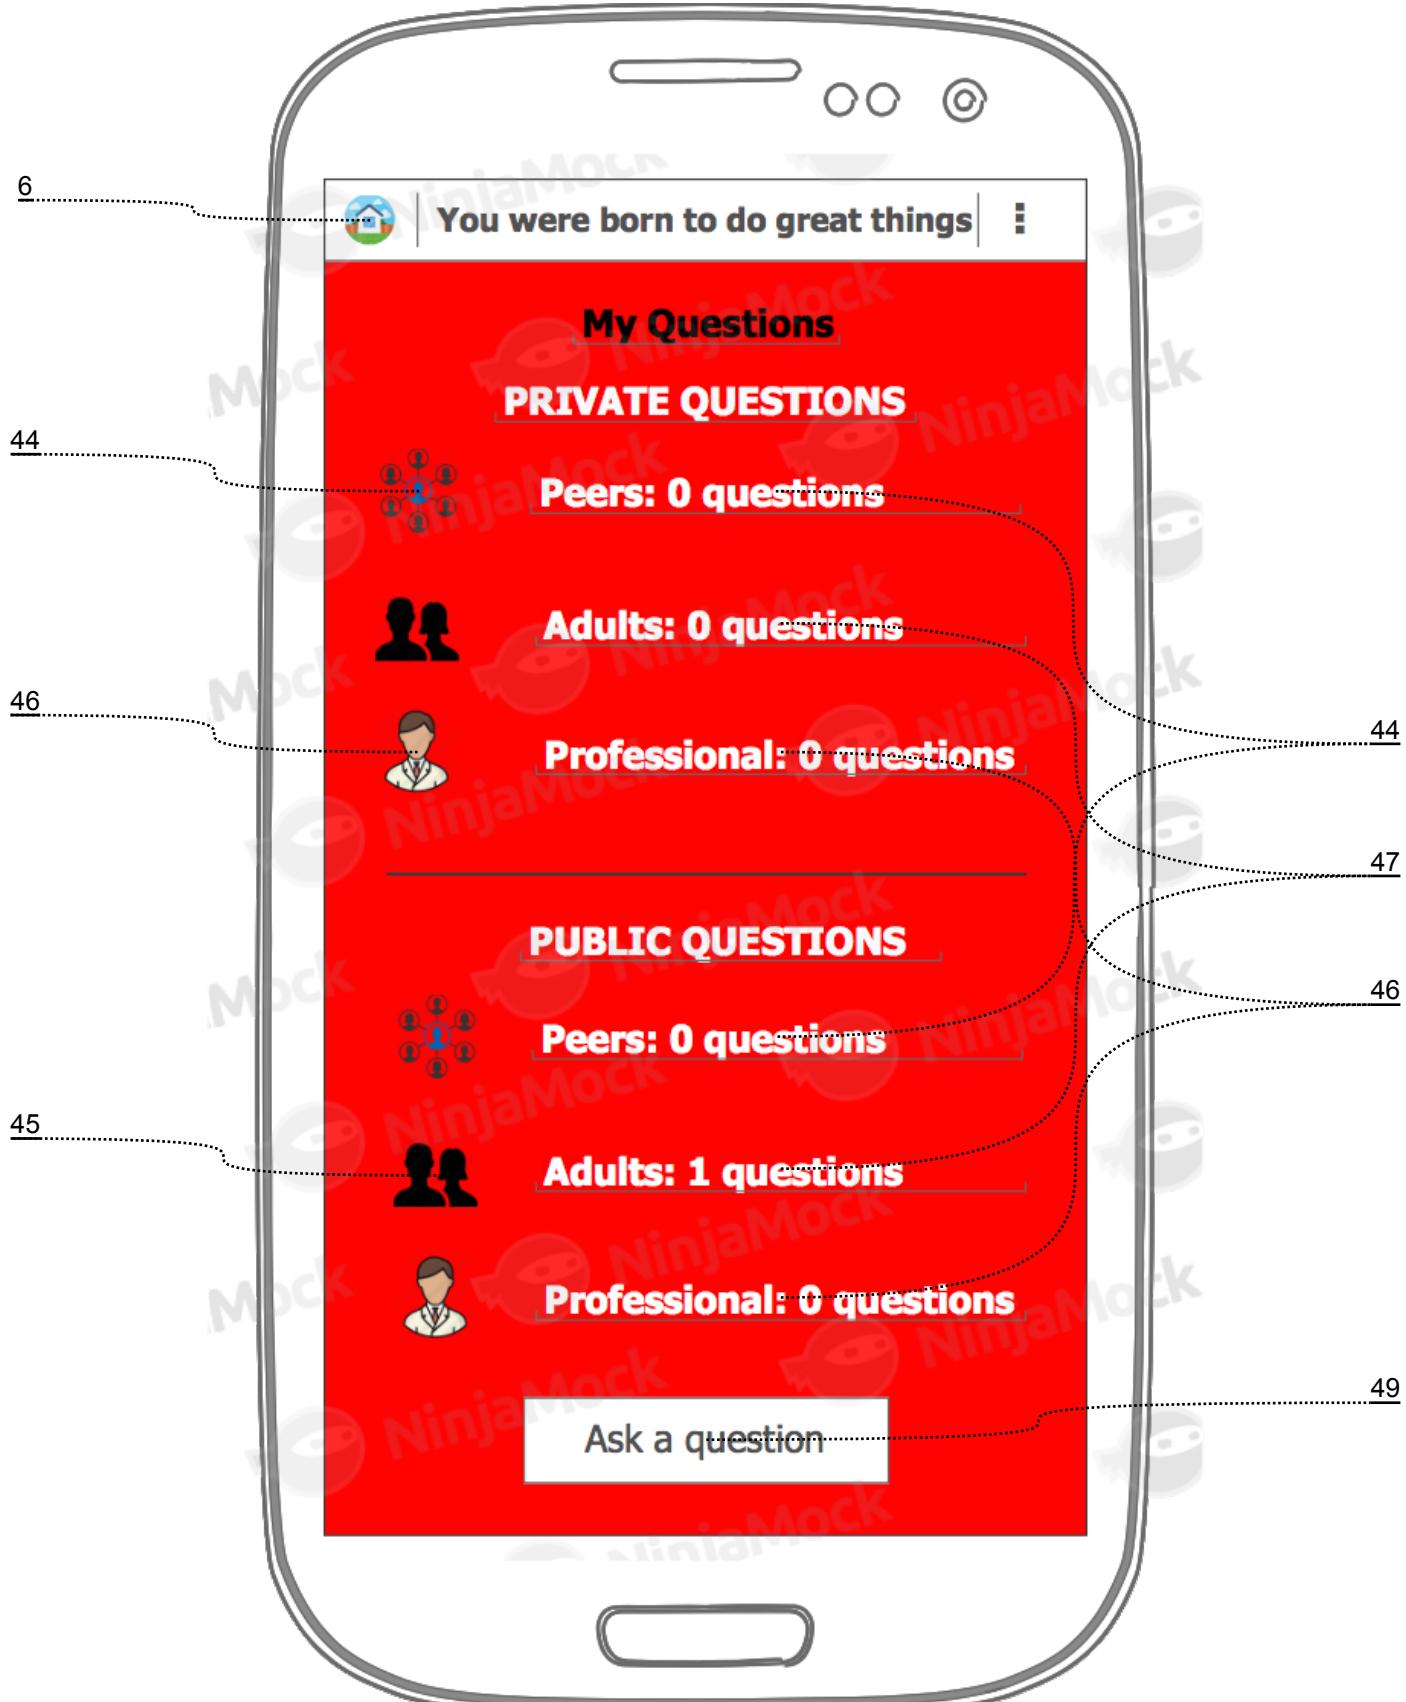

What should I do when I'm alone and no one sees someone bullying me?

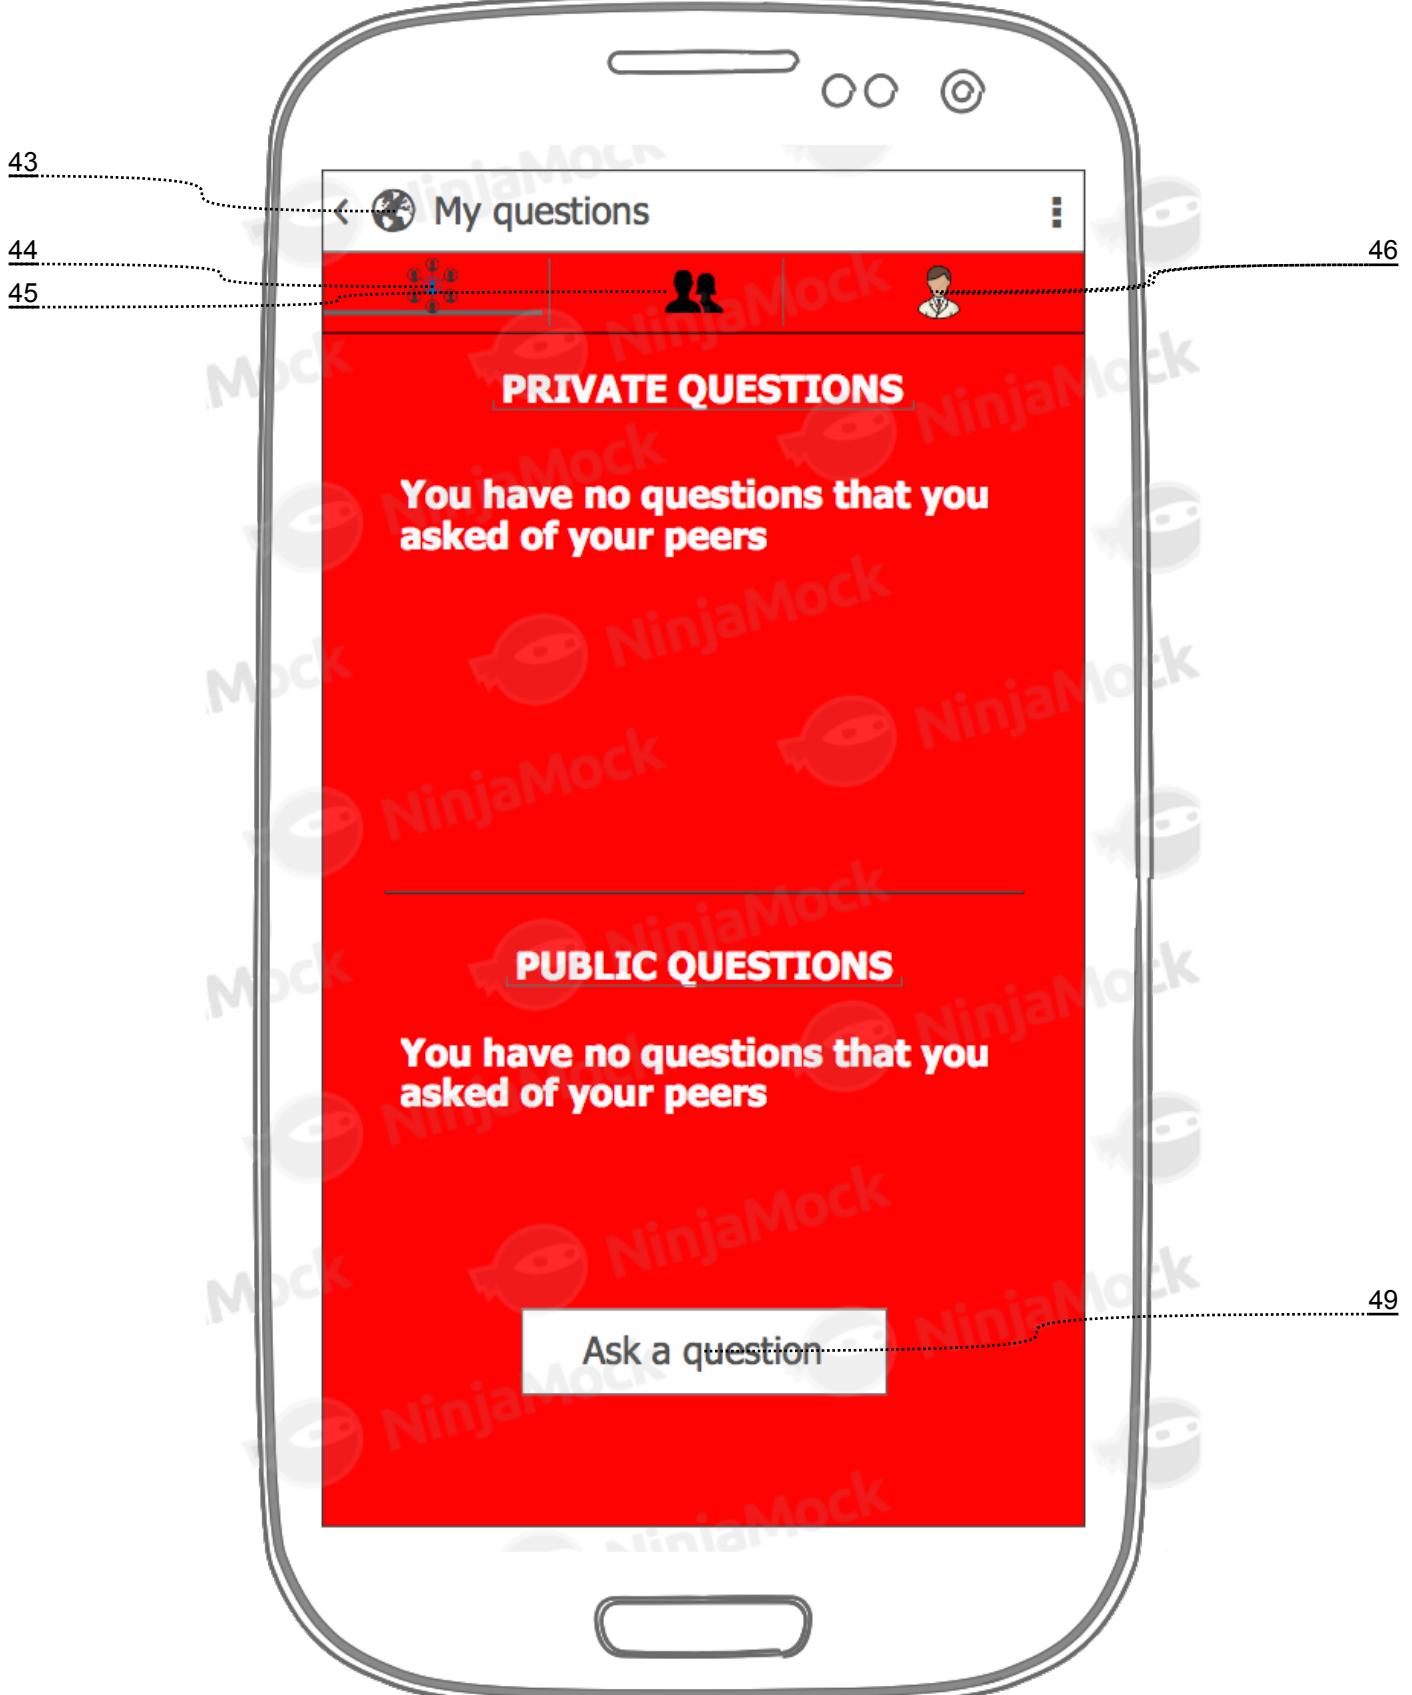

It can be very scary and fearful to be alone when someone is bullying you. Your safety is the most important thing. Make sure to tell your parent about the bullying and when it happens or tell a teacher or the adult in charge. Tell them how you feel and what they are doing that is making you feel that way. When possible try to not be caught alone in the same situation again or work out a solution with the adults in your life. If you feel like your life is in danger call the authorities right away.

I am feeling confused and sad.

I am half filipino and half Irish. My mom says that I am 50% filipino and only 25% Irish so I should tell people that I am filipino. What does it matter? Whenever I tell people I am filipino they say I'm lying because I'm white.

It can be confusing and sad when labels are more important than the person. It's great to have such a diverse heritage and to be proud of it, but it doesn't define who you are. You heritage is more than just what you look like on the outside. Try not to let people's opinions take

The image shows a smartphone displaying a presentation slide. The slide has a green background with a black silhouette of a bird in flight at the top. Below the bird, there is a block of text in bold black font. At the bottom of the slide, there are three white rectangular buttons with black text. The entire slide is framed by a white border.

Gain Altitude

Gaining altitude is like a bird learning how to fly. Our goal is for everyone to learn how to fly. We believe hat happens in three primary ways: Learning, listening and loving. As you grow in each of these areas you gain altitude.
